For President, JOHN BELL. OF TENNESSEE.

For Vice-President, EDWARD EVERETT. OF MASSACHUSETTS.

ELECTORAL TICKET. FOR THE STATE AT LARGE. BALIE PEYTON, of Sumner, N. G. TAYLOR, of Carter.

FOR EIGHTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, JOHN F. HOUSE, of Montgomery.

Friday, July 6, 1860.

Ber The Union ticket, so far as this District is concerned, is now complete, and every man upon it on the occasion of the District Convention, last week shows that the Union men are animated by a determination to win the victory, and the able and zeal-ous speeches point to the means by which that victory is to be achieved. The talent which this District can boast, and the patriotism which will bring, and keep, it in the field, seconded by the sounded to the sound enterentiate the control of ling elequence of our Electors and their volunteer lain o government, no slavery, and very little population there; (for your Federal laws exclude your assistants, who can doubt our success in Tennessee over a party hopelessly divided, entirely sectional, and incurably corrupt! In a contest between Bell is proposed simply to take off this prohibition, but on the affirmance of slavery there. Now, in the absence of any law establishing slavery in that region, previous to the prohibition has not the affirmance of slavery there. Now, in the absence of any law establishing slavery in that region, previous to the prohibition has not the affirmative effect of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of of fixing slavery in that country. The effect of other country in the statute book force are prohibiting slavery in these territories. It is proposed simply to take pleasure in thus making the emende honorable to its cause of the temporary difficulty and estrangement between us is now removed, by a voluntary act on Court of the temporary difficulty and estrangement between us is now removed, by a voluntary act on the effect of the prohibition has not the affirmance of slavery and the fire-caters to the Northern square of the temporary difficulty and estrangement between us is now removed, by a voluntary act on the country of the temporary difficulty and estrangement between us is now removed, by a al quarrel between the friends of Douglass and Breekenridge? Neither can possibly be elected, or if elected, neither, as a sectional man, and a mere partizan office-seeker, can harmonize the North and the South, and neither will seek to stay the tide of corruption which is demoralizing the body politic. Douglas is the open and avowed enemy of the institutions of the South—so far as squatter sovereign.

The language of the prohibition has not the affirmative effect of the remaining that country. The effect of the repeal, therefore, is neither to establish or exclude, but to leave the future condition of the Territories. Breckenridge took the stump in 1856, to prove that Congress has no such power, and Joe Lane has no power to protect slavery in the Territories. Whilst preparing, this week, to search old documents for further proof, we found in the Huntsville Independent, Ala, the destracts we publish below, fully convicting both Breckenridge and Joe Lane of as malignant squatter sovereignty as was ever charged upon Douglas. Let the reader bear in mind that the seceders, at Ci arieston, demanded of the Northern delegates the recognition of the right of Congress to protect sinvey in the Territories, and seceded because the demand was not allowed, and, with this light before him, let him ask how Breckenridge and Lane can stand upon the seceders' platform, or how the secesion of the seceders' platform, or how board. Rainer, and the some years past has been sugaged in the Nashville Female Academy, with Rev. C. D. Elliott, Dr. Hamitton will supervise the Literary, and Mr. Malone the Boarding House and Financial Departments. The Faculty is one of the best and ablest in our country. In this connection it may be proper to remark that several experienced Teachers have recently been added thereto, and among others, J. B. Killennew, A. M., who graduated some years since with all the honors of his class, at Chapel Hill University, North Carolina. Mr. K. will take entire charge of the Mathematical Department. Rev J. B. West, of the Tennessee Conference, has also been elected to lecture regularly on the subject of Ethies.

The Academic Buildings are now the largest and most splended of their kind of any in the South capable of holding four hundred Bourders and in point of elegance and comfort, are furnished in the very best style.

Our prices for Board, Tuition, etc., are from 25 in 50 per cent, less than other schools of equal grade and style in the South. On this point we challenge
